CAMINO MAN ENDS LIFE

Inquest Tuesday Night In Death Of Butcher At Lumbering Community

A coroner's inquest into the apparent suicide of George W. Smith, Camino butcher, found dead Monday afternoon at his living quarters in the rear of his establishment at Camino, will be held this (Tuesday) evening, at the court-house.

Smith, apparently, shot himself in the head with a .45 calibre Colt's pistol about three o'clock Monday afternoon as Deputy Sheriff William Bathurst sped to his home to serve a warrant charging him with disturbing the peace.

The complaint upon which the warrant was based had been preferred a few hours earlier by Mrs. Smith, to whom the butcher left a note bequeathing "every rag I possess."

Officials report Smith had resided at Camino approximately two years and that his principal difficulties appeared to arise through too much liquor.

Apparently under the influence of liquor Monday, he is said to have threatened to kill himself and is reported to have fired the pistol once in the presence of his wife, discharging the bullet through the floor of their living quarters.

Fearing that he might carry out his threat, Mrs. Smith sought a warrant for his arrest on charges of disturbing the peace and Deputy Sheriff Bathurst was en route to Camino to serve (Turn to Page 4)

Suspects In Largest Cash Robbery In U. S. History Cow Guards And Escape

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP)—Three felons, convicted as members of the gang that kidnaped John J. O'Connell, Jr. in 1933 and suspected participants in the largest cash robbery in United States history, cowed four guards with a smuggled revolver today and escaped from the Onondago county penitentiary.

The men are John J. Oley, Percy (Baby Face) Geary and Harold (Red) Crowley. They were federal prisoners, convicted under the "Lindbergh Law" in the abduction of O'Connell from Albany, N. Y. They were being held in the county penitentiary at Jamesville pending outcome of appeals.

In addition to the kidnaping, they were linked to a $427,950 holdup of an armored car in New York.

Because the men were federal prisoners, G-men joined state police and local officers in patrolling main roads and guarding bridges to Canada. Their orders were to "shoot to kill."

PIEROVICH HURT ONLY SLIGHT

State Senator Attends To Business As Oroville Holds Alleged Assailant

State Senator A. L. Pierovich was attending to business as usual at Jackson Tuesday morning despite a .22 calibre bullet wound in his thigh following an incident on a Monday pheasant hunting trip near Oroville.

The senator with Jackson Police Chief Earl Garbarini and Assemblyman Seth Millington, of Gridley, was hunting near Oroville when the party met Ralph Wortman, 45, "a squatter" who ordered them off the premises over which he had no control.

Wortman is reported to have insisted he meant to fire over the heads of the party to give emphasis to his orders, but a .22 calibre bullet struck Pierovich as he stooped to pick up a pheasant he had dropped.

The man was arrested by Garbarini and lodged in the county jail at Oroville, pending investigation. The land on which the party was hunting is owned by California Lands, Inc.

$52,059 DAMAGE SUIT IN SUPERIOR COURT

Boyle Lumber Company Named Defendant In 2 Actions On File Tuesday Morning

The Boyle Lumber Company and others are named defendants in two damage actions on file in Superior Court Tuesday morning in which plaintiffs pray for awards totalling $52,059.

Both complaints allege that the defendant concern was wilfully with insurance at the time of an accident at their plant on November 15, 1936, in which A. E. Huntley allegedly received injuries which caused his death, and in which Clad Crawford was hurt.

Plaintiffs in the first action are Mrs. Emma G. Huntley, widow of A. E. Huntley, and his son, Roy Huntley, and daughter, Edna Wilson.

The complaint charges that negligence on the part of the defendants resulted in the injuries to Mr. Huntley from which he died and prays for damages in the amount of $25,000.

The second suit is in behalf of Clad Crawford and alleges that in the accident in which Mr. Huntley was allegedly fatally injured, Crawford received injuries including a fractured skull and injury to one of his eyes for which he asks damages of $25,000.

In addition, it is charged, as a result of the injury, he was unable to work for a year and lost $1,909 in wages and was put to the further expense of $150 in doctor bills. Wherefore, plaintiff prays for judgment amounting to $27,059.

12 Killed In Plane Crash

Air Liner Enroute To London From Frankfurt Burns After Smashing Into Chimney

LONDON. (UP)—Twelve persons were reported killed today when an air liner bound to London from Brussels crashed in flames near Ostend, Belgium.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Ostend said the plane was bound to London from Frankfurt via Brussels.

The dispatch said the plane, belonging to the Belgian S. S. B. E. N. A. Line, was lost in a thick fog which made it difficult for the pilot to locate the airport for a forced landing.

The landing lights were switched on and flares were lighted, but near the airfield the plane hit a chimney and crashed. The victims were burned to death.

McLEMORE GETS "FUMIGATED"

By HENRY McLEMORE United Press Staff Correspondent

EUREKA. (UP)—When a man reaches the age of 30 he is very grateful to find out things that are not wrong with him.

One month ago I increased my insurance, as a sort of guarantee that my wife would be able to bring a decent dowry to her next husband. The doctor thumped my heart, whanged me in several delicate sections and finally pronounced me fit.

This made me feel very good. I said to myself, "McLemore you are a very fit specimen despite your youthful frivolity. You are of pioneer stock. You came into this world in a covered wagon. Your roots are the roots of the Redwood tree which, according to the alert California Chambers of Commerce, have existed since Noah over— (Continued on Page 4)

1,984 ENROLLED IN COUNTY'S SCHOOLS

469 Attend High School; 85 In Senior Class; 8th Grade In County Totals 196 Pupils

El Dorado County public schools, including the high school and the Placerville kindergarten and all grade schools, have an enrollment of 1,984 pupils.

In the case of the high school, at which there are 469 reported, the number is of the pupils actually in attendance and does not include pupils who might have enrolled earlier in the year and withdrawn.

The high school Senior Class numbers 85 and there are 196 children in the eighth grade this year. Thus, with 469 in attendance and possibly 85 to be graduated, and possibly 196 new freshmen next year, the high school faces an enrollment of 580 for next year.

And if 50 of these are thrown out as probably not attending for various reasons, the probable enrollment is still for greater than the facilities available.

The 1,984 enrollment includes also a Placerville kindergarten of 21, deducting these children and the high school attendance from the total, the figures show that all schools of the county, from the first to and including the eighth grade, have an enrollment of 1,494.

These are in classes as follows:—Eighth grades, 196; seventh grades, 188; sixth grades, 195; fifth grades, 176; fourth grades, 162; third grades, 182; second grades, 187 and first grades, 208.

The grade school enrollment figures were collected and compiled by School Superintendent E. J. Fitzgerald.

Roosevelt Facing Congress Fight

Sen. Pat Harrison Leads Bloc Seeking Economies, Business Betterment

WASHINGTON. (UP)—Sen. Pat Harrison, D., Miss., chairman of the powerful finance committee, today stepped into leadership of a congressional drive for government retrenchment and tax reduction.

Harrison outlined his views regarding revision of the undistributed profits tax, probably early next year, and said he hoped that Congress would stand firmly for reduction of emergency relief expenditures.

A campaign led by the congressional bloc that smashed President Roosevelt's supreme court program threatened the administration with a new test of strength by demanding immediate aid to the nation's business.

The drive, which attracted some notable recruits from democratic ranks, overshadowed immediate senate conflict over consideration of an anti-lynching bill and committee delay in both houses on farm and labor legislation.

The principal demands of the business-aid bloc were: broaden and speed up the administration's recently indicated program for encouragement of business, and revise the undistributed profits tax now rather than next year.

A little item of considerable importance that we have been meaning to mention for quite a while is the Indian frontier war carried on by Great Britain. The most amazing thing about all this is that although it has been going on for eleven months, little or no news has leaked out concerning it. Of course there is good reason for all this—Great Britain is in sufficient trouble now and the world has quite enough war news as it is but not since the Russian Revolution have we observed such a complete or partially complete censorship. Most of the crack foreign correspondents are either in Spain or China and a little episode (which is costing Great Britain over $225,000 per day) is not worth bothering about. The trouble seems to be rather complicated—one or two tribes are hostile and menacing (especially to the Hindus) and others, though they seem friendly, are carrying on raids and the like on the side. Britain is keeping 35,000 troops on the frontier (with the heaviest concentration at Razmak on the northwest) and is handling things with a "firm hand." That, with the Chinese-Japanese war, the Spanish Rebellion, and the Dominican Republic dispute brings the total up to four—or have we missed one? (That skirmish in Palestine doesn't count.) We'll tell you all we know about the trouble in Haiti before long, too.

We are definitely in favor of the forthcoming unemployment census—but we would like to make one comment that is suitable to the occasion—it's too bad that those that need it worse did not have radios to listen to the President's appeal—or homes to receive the cards in.

Long after the smoke of battle has died away from the torn streets of China's principal cities, one name will not be forgotten by those who owe their lives to one person—a lady of great courage. We do not know the story behind this lady; we wish we did. We know nothing about her except what we found in one short news item but here is on person we believe that belongs in the list (now quite long) of the heroes of the "passing parade." Her name is Maud Truxton Henderson and to her has fallen the lot of caring for the homeless, sometimes motherless newborn children of Shanghai. Maud Henderson, so we gather, runs a children's home of some sort in the above named city; she is a spinster—and to the glory of mankind she is carrying on with her work in the face of terrific obstacles. The average daily birth-rate of Shanghai is something like 700 (believe it or no) and in the midst of the madness of the East, many of those "fare worse than do backyard cats and dogs. Cradled in mud and dressed in torn newspapers, the lullabies are the boom of demolition bombs and howitzer shells. Somehow many of these "wolf children" have been brought to Maud Henderson's home and now she has a very large family for whom she last week vowed that if "any of these helpless tots die from Japanese bombs I must die with them." To you, Maud Truxton Henderson, our very best orchid and a hearty "God Bless You."

Two safety campaign signs sent in to us this last week deserve a little space—one from the bay area and one from Los Angeles. The first one reads "Look at the scenery while driving and see the next world." and the second (a little more to the point) "Drive like Hell and you'll get there."

That august and semi-authentic magazine Time has an item of considerable importance this week—in fact, we haven't fully recovered from reading it yet. "Petting," says the magazine, is now called (on U. S. campuses) "pitching woo." A rose by any name...

TWO FEATURES ON NEW BILL OPENING AT EMPIRE TONIGHT

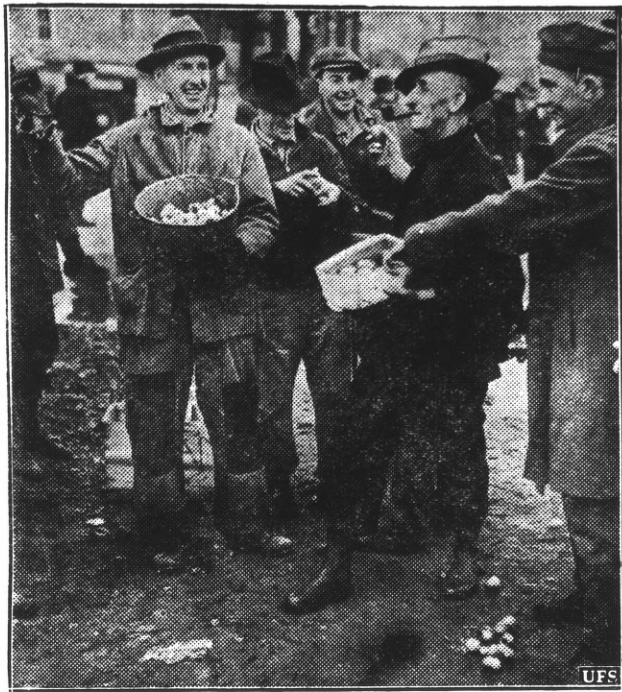

Newspapermen viewing the Hollywood conception of a newspaper office usually snicker. In movies, too, many reporters have carried around little green notebooks and pink, automatic pencils.

Real reporters usually write on old scraps of copy paper, or old envelopes with a stubby, well-chewed pencil. But now a former newspaperman has produced a newspaper picture that promises to be technically perfect.

A bleary-eyed reporter doesn't score the scoop of the year covering a story by telephone from the corner tavern in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "The Women Men Marry," which opens a two-day showing at the Empire Theatre tonight.

The second feature is "Flight From Glory."

WILBUR, Wash., (P)—A squash weighing 67½ pounds was exhibited here by Joe Winkelman. He also grew pumpkins this year, tipping the scales at more than 50 pounds. This section is virtually without irrigation facilities.

MIX MILK WITH EGGS—Embattled farmers of up-state New York, demanding recognition of the Dairy Farmers Union and a better price for their product, besieged various milk plants until 11, with an output of 200,000 quarts daily, signed up. Disorders occurred at some of the plants. Above is a distribution of over-ripe tomatoes and eggs, which were hurled at trucks.

ORCHARD HEATING FIELD LABORTORY NEARING COMPLETION

DAVIS—The outdoor field laboratory which will be used by the agricultural engineering division of the University of California at Riverside, is nearly completed and soon will be ready for operation. This report is made by Professor H. B. Walker, head of the agricultural engineering division of the College of Agriculture, at Davis, who is in charge of the studies being made on the smoke problem in frost protection in southern California.

Orchard heating methods and heaters will be studied by Robert Kipner and Coby Lorenzen under Professor Walker's direction. An acre plot will be used in the heating trials, with plots of similar size as check areas for comparison of results.

"The orchard heating problem, as regards smoke, cannot be solved in a single season," Professor Walker declares. "When effective heaters are found, it will require much time to persuade growers to throw away their smoky equipment to adopt new methods that will cost large sums for installation. Entire elimination of smoke may not be possible, but we do hope to work out an efficient method of frost protection with less smoke. We feel progress is being made but we are not nearly ready to report a solution of the problem, and will not be for some time."

"Goats, in an attempt to find something better to eat in the next pasture, often get their horns caught between fence wires and bleed, unnoticed, until they die," Dr. Ellis said. "Eventually, by my experiments, I hope to have a herd of hornless goats."

Inca Gold May Be Tapped

Planes Carry Equipment To Property Idle For 200 Years

LA PAZ, Bolivia, (P)—A rich gold mine in the jungle-covered valley of the little Tipuani river, will be revived soon under a scheme calling for the transportation of 1,000,000 pounds of mining equipment by air over the four mile high Bolivian Andes.

Owners of the mining property, the Campana Aramayo de Mines en Bolive, have signed one of the biggest air-freight contracts in the history of aviation, hoping thereby to release a rich flood of precious yellow metal which untold centuries ago poured from the depths of the "jungle valley" to the throne of the mighty Inca kings and in the 16th century was diverted by the Spanish Conquistadores to the courts of Seville.

Pan-America Grace Airways, an American concern, began transportation of the machinery at the rate of 10,000 pounds a day on Nov. 2, 1937, utilizing a tri-motored transport plane especially reconstructed to handle the heavy machinery. This plane completes the trip to the Tipuani valley within twenty-eight minutes, compared to 10 days on the mountain trails.

CALIFORNIA LEADS IN USE OF FHA HOME FINANCE PLAN

California maintains a commanding lead over other states for home building and participation in the FHA insured mortgage system of financing, according to figures received by Clifford C. Anglin, district director of the Federal Housing Administration in Northern California, from Administrator Stewart McDonald.

It was stated that through August 31 a total of 33,657 California families had financed homes under insured mortgages amounting to $142,042,586. New York and Ohio are close contenders for second place, the former with 12,916 mortgages accepted for insurance for $62,111,038, while Ohio had 14,603 in number amounting to $62,072,194.

The California total was said to represent 17 per cent of all mortgages accepted for insurance in the states, Alaska and Hawaii, which number 204,214 amounting to $835,147,495. The average insured loan in this state approximates $4220, slightly higher than the national average.

SINGLE ICING FOR PEARS PRE-COOLED CARRIES FRUIT EAST

DAVIS — Pears properly pre-cooled will carry to eastern markets with only the initial icing, although in very hot weather it might be desirable to have one re-icing as a safety measure. This is the conclusion reached by L. L. Claypool, instructor in pomology in the University of California College of Agriculture, on the Davis Campus. The report, made after a test shipment of eight cars, confirms that made previously by F. W. Allen, associate pomologist who made a similar experiment two years ago.

Thorough and rapid pre-cooling is emphasized in the report Claypool has made on the test, in which he says that even with minimum loads the fruit reached eastern markets satisfactorily. He concludes that "from an economic standpoint the shipment of heavy loads properly pre-cooled under modified icing is practical and deserves consideration by the Sacramento River pear growers."

Two years ago the test made by Allen was on fruit from Lake and El Dorado counties; this year Sacramento River growers asked for a similar trial with their fruit. Those cooperating were Dennis Leary, Runyon and Dorsey and John D. Wheeler of the California Fruit Exchange. The Lambert Marketing Company, the Earl Fruit Company, and the American Fruit Growers.

Of the eight cars, four were given no ice after shipment, three were re-iced once, and one was given standard refrigeration. The cost of standard refrigeration over one icing was about eight cents a box, over no icing from 10 to 12 cents. All the fruit arrived in approximately the same condition.

bers that under PWA regulations, the city must start work not later than December 11 on the project to be eligible for the $34,000 PWA grant obtained for the project.

It was this situation and the lack of time remaining in which to prepare the project as an entire unit, that led to setting up the smaller initial unit of the project.

Subsequently, bids also will be called for the balance of the improvement, consisting of main line and connecting sewers down Hangtown Creek from Washington Street to the westerly city limits, with a disposal plant.

The council was visited by Harry Sherman, business representative of the Construction Laborers' Union, of Sacramento, who protested against the proposed wage scale on the project as being too low.

The council members said they had set the scale following a survey of the community and would be glad to cooperate with Mr. Sherman in the matter, providing changes could be arranged without delaying the preparation of the papers necessary to getting the project started within the time limit allowed.

DINOSAUR FOOTPRINTS TO BE SAVED IN COLORADO MINE

CEDAREDGE, Colo., (P)—A 30-ton section of rock will be removed from a coal mine near here to show that an early inhabitant of this state—an iguanodon dinosaur—could step off 15 feet at a stride.

The rock contains four footprints of the dinosaur. Dr. Barnum Brown, leader of an American Museum of Natural History expedition, said two of the tracks are part of a trail. The right and left footprints are 15 feet and 2 inches apart. The three-toed footprints are 34 inches long and 34 inches across the toes.

To remove the footprints of the giant creature which roamed this area when it was a dense tropical forest of the cretaceous age, 80,000,000 years ago, it has been necessary to widen 1,000 feet of the coal mine and build a special mine car. The footprints, Brown said, were implanted in a prehistoric swamp that eventually became a seam of coal.

FAILURE TO DIM LIGHTS MAY DRAW FINE OF $50

California motorists who refuse to dim their headlights when meeting oncoming vehicles today were warned by Chief E. Raymond Cato of the California Highway Patrol that they are violating the law.

Calling attention to the dimming law passed by the 1937 legislature and now in full effect, Chief Cato said:

"Under this new provision the dimming of headlights passes out of the 'courtesy code' and becomes a part of the motor vehicle code.

"Glaring headlights have become a glaring violation of the law and rules of the road. Officers of the patrol have been instructed to watch for those who refuse to dim their headlights and by this refusal imperil other motorists."

The new law specifies that headlights be dimmed when the motorists approach within 500 feet of the oncoming vehicle and that they remain dimmed until the vehicles have passed.

Penalty for the offense, classified in the vehicle code as a misdemeanor, provides a $50 fine, a five day jail sentence or both for the first offense while "repeaters" may be fined up to $500, given a six months jail sentence or both.

Yolo County will probably become a modified accredited T. B. area in December.

TUBERCULOSIS DEATHS IN STATE SHOW GAIN DURING YEAR

A striking increase in tuberculosis in California will be recorded for 1937 if figures reported at the close of the year follow the trend of the figures reported for the first three months, according to an announcement received today from the California Tuberculosis association. The announcement states:

"A total of 1,385 deaths from all forms of tuberculosis occurred in California during the first three months of the present year, according to a report just received from the Bureau of Vital statistics of the State Department of Public Health. This is an increase of 129 deaths over the number reported for the first three months of last year. During the past seven years since 1930, an average of 1330 deaths from tuberculosis have occurred each year during January, February and March. It is seen that this year's figures exceed even this high average by 55 deaths.

"If reported deaths for the balance of this year follow this same upward trend, it is estimated that approximately 5,100 tuberculosis deaths will be recorded for the entire year, raising the tuberculosis death rate for the state to 78.5 deaths per 100,000 persons living in California. In 1936 only 4,918 deaths occurred, while the death rate was down to 72.3. The estimated rise represents an increase of over eight per cent.

Today I felt even better, because I passed the examination which every visitor to California has to pass before entering California. At the state line California has placed gentlemen who stop every car and subject its occupants to a going over more severe than ever thought up by the best minds of John Hopkins, the Brothers Mayo, and that foot guy named Locke, or something like that.

I can say truthfully today that my person is not contaminated with the boll weevil, the Japanese fruit fly, the Egyptian mummy moth, the Greek alfalfa pest, the Chinese ring worm or the Mediterranean chicken pip.

When I drew my car to a halt at the examination shed—a wooden device so built that the rain and wind whipped up the trouser legs of all who stopped—a bright young man in a green uniform stuck his head into my car, unmasked, and said:

"What have you got in all of those bags you have in this car?"

"Well," I replied, "I have shirts, collars, drawers, golf balls, alligator eggs, sun glasses, high button shoes, and many other things."

"Have you any pests with you?" the man in the uniform said.

I gave my wife a sharp look and she gave me a sharper one.

"No, I have no pests," I said.

The young man did not believe me.

He ordered, in a voice that only a semi-important official can muster, to take everything out of my car except the carburetor. As I took it out he looked at it. He studied my golf bag as though it were something from Mars. He opened by gladstones and rooted through them, an eager glint in his eye. I almost felt sorry for him when a corn bore bug did not drop from my favorite fawn spats.

He peered into my duffelbags with a wicked eye. His face dropped when nothing dropped out but a bottle of White Horse and a Rhode Island hen which I am carrying with me to insure fresh eggs no matter how far I wander from civilization. Finally he gave me an OK card. With this card I am given the power to wander about California spending by eastern money at will. I am privileged, with this card, to stop and watch Wallace Beery get paid for sweating, and Jane Withers paid more for being annoying.

In other words, I am in California. God's country. The land of eternal sunshine. Ageless press agents. And the Four Square Gospel.

The Fruit business, as it concerns you, me and a good many dependent upon us (if they want to admit it or not) has passed into another year of worrying about frost, blight, labor conditions, and so forth.

Notwithstanding, all the assurances of a fairly decent return for all our work—and giving work—these returns have developed into red ink for many, and probably for most of the growers in California.

According to Government and State reports, with the usual applesauce thrown in, we are much better off than last year. Our advertising campaign, up to last reports, costing I believe about $90,000. The Tree Fruit Agreement and what have you, have worked wonders. But after all, I and a heck of a lot more growers have a sweet time in paying our bills at the sharply reduced returns over last year. How long will we take all this dish-up applesauce? Supplying positions (not jobs) for so many non-producing individuals who are just kidding us along to keep us making their living.

Look at our wonderful advertising campaign. Three cents per box doesn't seem like very much, but brother I wish that I had the $400.00 that it cost me to pay on my water bill, instead of contributing it to some Commission or Government officials or what have you. They can always (and I guess they have to) explain that we are better off by feeding all those parasites, but boy it does not pay the bills or release our mortgages. Does it, huh? I have said before that the California Deciduous Tree Fruit Agreement is a joke, and our advertising campaign is worse. You have to stop selling culls, you have to stop putting more frills into our packing, and you have to eliminate the loafers and gov-
